

Current traffic information

Here you will find information on detours, road closures and other traffic obstructions within the town area of Herzogenaurach and the surrounding region.

Construction sites on roads, footpaths or cycle paths slow down the traffic flow and might disturb the daily routine of residents. Therefore the Town of Herzogenaurach provides information on this website about complete closures and partial closures of main traffic routes. This enables all road users to prepare themselves with regard to obstructions with significant impact on public traffic areas.

Current construction sites within the town area

Under “Current messages”, there is information available regarding not only construction sites of the Town of Herzogenaurach but also construction sites of other parties like private persons, telecommunication companies, local energy providers, etc. The list also includes construction sites on district and state roads for which the Town of Herzogenaurach is not the responsible organizer. To keep the traffic information as up-to-date as possible, projects are only published when the start of the relevant construction works has been determined.
